This was at the beginning of the ninth inning when Dr. Wilmot realized that nothing but higher mathematics would land a run for his technologists. Elders Davis and Donahue, who studied up as high as quarternions in Ballysloughgutthery, reasoned with much.

Again was the B. S. of A. D. foiled. Dr. Wilmot did not measure further than first base. It was not considered needful as few of his Professors passed that point. Thus was Elder Soren Jenson and his rule of thumb employed in refitting the infield to the earth violicated, and Elder Wiggs was at liberty to proceed with his shutouting. to proceed with his shutouting.

As the day was bad for Professor Roache, even so good was it for the Wiggs, who not only pitched magnificent ball, but hit in timely fashion, and reeled home with a complete :un. The game was unique in that a full and useful course in civil engineering and land surveying was embodied in it. "BALDY" STAVER GETS GLAD HAND

AVOIDED NERVOUS STRAIN CARL REDMAN SHOWS SPEED

WIN TANDEM HANDICAP.

San Francisco, Aug. 11.—James J. Colbett was today examined by Dr. Charles F. Tillman, the official physician of the Yosemite Athletic club. After being jumping in with the best of them and judging from the glad hand given "Baldy" while he was kicking in close behind Downing, and the rest of the professional while he was kicking in close behind Downing, and the rest of the professional bunch were getting the dust from his rear wheel. Samuelson started out to gather in the lap money and got the lion's share of the big round dollars offered for the first man over the tape at the end of each lap. When the sprint came for the tape, Samuelson was still leading with Downing down the line and Staver tacked on Downing's wheel. Hardy jumped the bunch, and "Baldy" hung on ilke grim death, while the San Jose boy carried him to the front.

The five-mile lap race for the amateurs witnessed a preity piece of team work by the Redman brothers, which landed the first prize for Carl, the younger of the pair. The rest of the bunch kept up a continual fight for lap money, while the Redman boys were content with taking things easy. On the last mile Limberg came up for a position and incidentally capture a few 50-cent pieces offered as lap prizes. Two laps from home Iver Redman jumped from the rear with his brother Carl safe on behind and, after carrying Carl to the front, the latter jumped out from behind and beat the bunch out for the tape by several lengths. Carl Redman and Blum, the big Chicago boy, were too much for Heagren and Limberg in the unlimited tandem pursuit race. The former team started out with a steady pace and slowly, but surely, overhauled the lading team, when they were passed with ease.

The summary:
Five-mile lap race, amateur—C. Redman, Agraz, Limberg, Blum. Time, 19-42.

Two-mile lap race, professional—Turville and Samuelson, 40 yards; Downing and Stevens, scratch; Burri's and Staver, 139 yards. Time, 2-51.

at Seattle,

Seattle, Wash., Aug. II.—Gus Rogers, well known as a quarter-horse rider on the Butte and Denver tracks, was fatally injured at The Meadows today while riding John H. Carr in the five-furiong race. The horse got away among the last in the break, and in the mix-up which always occurs in the fight for the rail into the turn Carr was bumped off his stride and went to his knees. He rolled over, and Rogers went underneath. The horse almost immediately regained his feet, but, Rogers lay motionless where he fell. Examination revealed that he was suffering from concussion of the brain. The boy died en route to a hospital.

Rogers first made his appearance as a jockey about three years ago at Butte, where he made a considerable reputation as a clever quarter-horse rider. He first came into prominence through his clever riding of Populist, a well-known sprinter on western tracks. Rogers parents reside in Nez Perce county, Idaho. Deceased was about 22 years old.

in Probate Business.

Timothy Kendell as administrator of the estate of the late Jonathan Sandiford has brought suit against John T. Sandiford demanding that the latter account to him for certain moneys, merchandise and other property belonging to Jonashan Sandiford in his lifetime. The complaint alleges that John Sandiford immediately on the death of Jonathan Sandiford, May 15, 1902—took possession of the dead brother's property and has continued to hold the same to this time, and refuses to account to the administrator. The property consists of a small grocery store with stock and fixtures, also some real estate. Some phases of the dispute were in court once before when the same plaintiff sued as guardian of the one son of Jonathan Sandiford for a title to the real estate. At that time John claimed that his brother Jonathan had deeded to him the property just before the latter's death, the same to be used for the benefit of the young son and only her.
